Although headquartered in Maynard, MA, Digital is a prime employer in the Springfield area: 1800 work in the Westfield plant (opened in 1970), and 950 in an inner-city facility located in the Springfield Armory complex on Federal St. (opened in 1972).

Digital's contribution to the economic and social consciousness in the Greater Springfield community is one example of Digital's commitment to communities in general and those in Massachusetts in particular. Digital is totally committed to its employees - to their training, to their total development, and to the atmosphere in which they work. For that, Digital expects a commitment from them. They must make sure Digital is successful and can build a quality product competitive with others on the market. The products made here are used globally in scientific research, computation, communication, education and industry in computer systems ranging from monitoring a patient's heartbeat to automating a company's payroll.

They're just a part of what we have to offer. Add weatherproof parking, Postal, Federal Express, and Purolator depots, a sophisticated security system of electronic equipment and round-the-clock personnel, Springfield's most exclusive private club, and over 60 exciting shops and restaurants—and you'll begin to see the total picture—a truly complete complex to satisfy all of your needs. At the Baybank Tower at Baystate West, it's more than sheer height that makes everyone look up to us.
